Biography :

SantAAgostino is born in the torrid hot summer of 2005, from three sharp but fractured minds. Since the beginning, they get their inspiration from the violent and unruly strength of the holy man - Saint Augustine - but they choose to take from him the moniker alone, in order to put into music a story about "k soil".

Operazione Paura is a tribute to music and cosmos energy: the same energy that santAAgostino trio was permeated with during the opus and the esecution of the pieces.

Operazione Paura is a total turning not just for the band but for dark, ambient music and noise, generally speaking. That's because santAAgostino is like a meteor crashed onto the Earth disarranging all the balances, rythmes and cycles.

After the crash the planet seems to be perished but, in the inner part, the new fire of life is burning. A brand new energy developed in a new way of living, of thinking and being.

Operazione Paura speaks of the filmic and horrific fear, mind trap "to kill" atavistic thoughts and all those mental factors that trapped the man into a selfmade cage in his own mind, through the mind itself.

Operazione Paura is an awl that, slowly but inexorably, drives the listener to a dimension where there is no thought, no images, no more conceptualizing, nothing still exhists: there is just a huge solitary desert now, where sounds spontaneously flow creating new monster beyond space and time. It's a place where new divine dynasties born, spreading their seed, in order to bear a brand new reign far from the borders that we can't even imagine.
